

Building Lasting Relationships... Since 1975

From Our President

Dear Friends,

"Building Lasting Relationships" is the Felderman motto but more than that, it is the way we measure success.

In 2011, Pizza Hut of Fort Wayne saw the restaurant industry changing to more of a carry-out and delivery model instead of the traditional dine in restaurant they were known for locally. They began their search for a new design-build contractor, as their current contractor they had worked with for several years was ready to retire, to help them develop the concept and implement the change across their footprint. As Dick Freeland put it in one of our conversations, "we have too many seats and not enough butts." So in 2011 we embarked on our long journey working together with the rebuilding of their Frankfort, IN store. Since then, we have worked with Pizza Hut of Fort Wayne on 19 projects and counting. In 2019, we had the honor to work with Pizza Hut on their new HQ in downtown Fort Wayne.
