

Building Lasting Relationships... Since 1975

FALL NEWSLETTER

QUARTERLY ISSUE - OCTOBER 2023

From Our President

Dear Friends,

As I reflect on the past year – a period of profound organizational and economic change – it is remarkable how much we have accomplished, especially when it comes to building a team that lives and breathes our core values. At the top of that list is a Customer First mentality, where we believe wholeheartedly there is nothing more important than steadfast dedication to customers; which allows us to build relationships that last.

It is through that mindset we have been able to build relationships and multiple projects for Hollingshead Mixer Company (HMC) in Avilla, IN. Their expansion has been quite impressive over the past year and we are so thankful to play a part in their growth!

Growth and change are at the heart of every successful business. HMC is a great example of growth and a company that believes in their product and their people. They have shown that time and again by investing in their building expansion and providing a safe, state-of-the-art facility for their employees.

At Felderman Design-Build, this year's growth is a testament to our dedication to provide world-class Design-Build construction to our customers. Growth is exciting, and when you choose to partner with Felderman Design-Build, you can trust our team knows what it takes to deliver on your dreams. We look forward to the opportunities that lie ahead.
